Name your resume
something that will identify it.

You may only need one resume, but if you are applying for more than one type of job you may create a second or a third resume with details specific to each type of job.

Select one or more
 of the categories
 which interests your resume will be linked with jobs that are available in those fields.

The screenshot displays a user profile for a 'Heavy Equipment Operator'. At the top, there's a 'Select Resume' dropdown set to 'Heavy Equipment Opera' and a 'Default Resume' checkbox labeled 'Primary'. A 'Create New Resume' button is in the top right. The profile title 'Heavy Equipment Operator' is followed by an 'Edit' button. Below the title, it shows 'Created : 2020-01-24', 'Last Updated : 2020-01-24', and '# of Submits : 0'. A large blue arrow points from the 'Add Cover Letter' button (which is circled in red) to a yellow box at the bottom. The yellow box contains the text: 'Write your cover letter by clicking the “Add Cover Letter” tab at the top of the'. The profile sections include 'Professional Overview' (with an 'Edit' button), 'Employment History' (with an 'Add' button), 'Education' (with an 'Add' button), 'Job Categories' (with 'Labour' and 'Fisheries/Shipping' tags), 'Skills', and 'Awards/Credentials'. On the right, a 'PROFILE' sidebar shows '100% Complete' status, 'Related Jobs' section with a job listing for 'driller' at 'ACME Canada - Rankin Inlet', and a 'Posted: 1 month ago' timestamp.

Write your cover letter by clicking the “Add Cover Letter” tab at the top of the resume page.
